All users that post on forum are asked to add "SOLVED" tag on those topics that are considered solved , please help us to keep helping you, it would be much easier for us to track the unsolved topics.
Thank you all for understanding

PS:
@ Nux can you push it as ANNOUNCEMENT pls. thx.

Maybe I'm just that stupid, but I can't find any way to set or change a tag. How about a howto in the tips section to show how it is done?

Steve,

I think you need to "edit" your post and change the subject. I'm not sure if you have enough privileges for that, though.
Well, it's no big tragedy if there's no SOLVED in the subject. I don't expect this forum to get so busy that we cannot keep track of things.

You must be right about lack of permissions - I can edit my follow-ups but can't edit the original post.
