Given that it seems like the COPR repo decathorpe-syncthing has stopped building any updates since Fedora 28 accepted it to EPEL, (yet I don't see versions in EPEL for EL7) I wonder if there's any chance we might get one newer than 0.14.41?

Hi,

Any reason not to use the provided binaries? I think this way it can also self-update or do it from their UI.
